

WINDOW TO THE WORLD

"Creating friendships, one letter at a time."

Are you an elementary or middle school student interested in making new friends and improving your Chinese?

Window to the World is a completely free program that connects students at your school with students in Chinese-speaking regions, such as Mainland China and Taiwan.

Through letters to your pen pal, you can meet a new friend and learn about life in another country!

We also offer fun educational content on our website and social media pages.

Ask your parents and teachers about how to sign up!

For Parents:

Our team members are college students and young professionals who are passionate about facilitating cross-cultural friendships. We attend/attended universities including Yale University, Columbia University, the University of Pennsylvania, and more. Through our pen pal program, we seek to help students learn about other cultures at an early age.
